Name Brendan Burns President of NAT Section
Organization European Economic & Social Committee
Country Represent all EU 28 countries

How do you/your organisation contribute with your work to the field of Human Health and Well-being?

The European Economic and social Committee (EESC) does not have a direct contributory role in the field of Human Health and Well-being. The EESC was established by the Treaty of Rome and has a duty to represent Civil Society at all levels of EU Governance. There are three groups within the EESC. The Employers, The Unions and The NGOs. It is the responsibility of the Section Presidents of the EESC to identify European issues that may become of interest to the committee and as the President of the NAT Section (rural development, Environment, Agriculture and forestry) I have a specific interest in the people who work in European Forestry
